

HERE I AM, A SOLDIER

Looking into the treasure chest of My Father, you know, the treasure chest that contains everything, all that He is; every Spiritual gift, even immortality; I spy the Goodly Pearl.

“There you are,” I tell myself. “There you are, the most beautiful shimmering pearl ever to be seen.

Grasping the beautiful Pearl, I immediately pull it close against my heart. “ Oh, the joy of finding you, my wholly, dear living Pearl.”

The value of the wonderful treasure chest has instantly faded at the glorious appearance of The Pearl of Great Price.

“I feel you majestic Pearl, and marvel at the warmth and joy that you bring. May we communicate? Do you hold a message or a Word for me? Do you hold a message or Word for all, even the Creation? ”

“Since you have asked, I shall say what My Father is saying: The treasures that quickly faded from your view; that are overshadowed by My presence, are wonderful rooms in My Father’s house. In contrast, I am all of My Father’s house. That is why you have chosen Me in preference. I am not limited to the glory of one room or another.”

“Now, will you answer these questions for Me, for you know I am not limited?

Do you think I need money?

Do you think I need health?

Do you think I need time?

Do you think I need anything?

Do you think I will father children subject to any of these beggarly limitations?”

“I am here, next to your heart, or more clearly, I am here as your heart. Are you ready to accept Me as I am? Are you ready to receive My everlasting presence? Do you know I have provided this entrance, and have apprehended you into Myself? Do you know I have sent My Spirit to woo and to alert all men I am come within? “

“Place your hand on your heart and hear this: You are My reality, and my joy. You, dear one are My breath; Heaven and Earth made one. The hand that has touched the Goodly Pearl is holy. There is no further delay to you, for you have found yourself in the midst of Paradise, and are seated with Me at the right hand of our Father. (Not by anything you have done, but by My own hand)

“You have found Me and received only Me; your most important knowing. No longer do you surrender yourself to desire any other God. Therefore, I have made you free; free indeed, from time and space, money and separation. You shall no longer seek the things of the old creation, for the real is come in you. You find Me as I am, full and complete in Truth .”

“You are enraptured by the Goodly Pearl, separated from the measurement of earth, and called in the presence of I am.”

“Now, I tell you, you are hidden; Heaven in earth. You are unto Me, My being. I call you Son of The Most High, for you are My prepared soldier.” You are hidden next to the heart of men. They will be inquiring of you, My soldier, and We will answer, revealing Our Father. AMEN
