

I Hear You

I hear you, I hear you Little Ones, I hear your call.

Even the mountains hear you.

Salvation is My Namesake, My glory!

When you receive salvation, you are receiving Me as you know.

The fullness of glory is found in Me. I am the only earth dweller, as the reality of you.

Now look at you; My express image. You know through your tenderness, and your mercy, when you give of yourself, you are giving Me. I have endowed you with My abundance of salvation, My peace, My fearlessness, My joy. You are the holder of all that I am. It is given, a free gift, not for you to hold to yourself, but to give out freely and abundantly. You are rich with My presence, overflowing love.

If a man has everything, He has everything to share. I have walked the earth and We do walk the earth. We are resurrection, immortal life today. We are the Ones who hold their hands, and the Ones whose hands are held. We are all in all as One.

I hear you. I hear your call. Go and comfort someone who does not understand My presence.

Abiding love,

Jim & Darling Melba
