

JOY

Beloved and dear friend:

Within is the fullness of joy as the Father advised to me yesterday. Perhaps it is for you also.

He spoke the word Lament to me and I had to look it up to see just what it meant. As the word came, He told me it is no time to lament for now that I know He is here in all His fullness, there is no possibility for anything but joy.

Consider: with Him being all that there is, both in the Spirit mind and the natural mind; and all that there is in Heaven and in earth (There being nothing beside Him), and with He being us as we truly are now, there of necessity needs be a great rejoicing and worship for every cell of our bodies and of our minds. It is His time to celebrate our resurrection.

These thoughts came to me, and I know they will quicken you because you are that perfect love and open heart.

Enter into the fullness of joy and walk around in the Kingdom of His life, and remember we are standing, yoked together in light.
