

Oh His Grace

Perhaps the greatest thing in our world is not the revelation of oneness, but the recognition of Grace, and of course we know we cannot have one without the other.

It is your pleasure to extend the hand of mercy, and look through the eye of love to the very least in the Kingdom, even to the dogs of the alleyways. Who knows how great they are, except the Father knows.

And so you may say to yourself, "I see you Jesus, standing at the Father's right hand."

Isn't it amazing that we are instructed to see no man as flesh, but to know all men as Spirit? Look across the face of this magnificent planet. There you may behold the great longing vacuum calling for mercy; the longing eyes of bewilderment. Where is hope? Where is peace? Where is life? Where may it be found except in the depths of Grace flowing through and from your very Being? Where can mercy be had except in the joining of hearts?

Who was the enemy? He was self righteousness, and religious pride. How was he conquered? By love at the cross; by the wonderful Grace that now is inherent in every man; that Spirit Who is All in all. (and I reiterate, there is none beside Him, not even one.). Where is the fountain of immeasurable Grace now to be found? It is in the heart of the only begotten Son, whose heart you are.

And so here You are, the treasure of the Father, a bright and shining Pearl of Great Price, exuding Divine Grace. What have You to give? The all of Yourself, the limitless real of You.

Silently and to yourself, you say to them: "Awaken. I give you Christ My love, for that's Who You are. I give you peace and a delightful awakening. I give you Your true Self, and stand with You heart to heart, because He has made Us One and He has made us righteousness and the whole of Himself.

Think not that Your extended hand is less than the power of God, for love has filled Your vessel. Love has conquered all. The graves are open and each man in his own order is acknowledging the resurrection. Each man is accepting Himself.

Holy Ghost, We thank You , for You are presenting Your Son. In His risen state, He is come as glorified man, the only ONE, and only voice.

Heaven has taken it's stand. In a sure voice, we declare the Kingdom, and it thunders from Heaven. In a whisper you say, hallelujah and the earth shifts. This is the day of all new beginnings. The Garden of Eden has received us back. We are not hidden or insignificant, for the Father's House has expanded to receive His Son. Power is given in the Son, in that, He is aware everything is perfect, and is honored to proclaim it so.

"Peace, be still dear hearts, for don't you know you are loved with an all awakening love?"

Amen
