

HIGHER I CANNOT GO.

I believe we have come up through all forms of life. There is I believe only One in existence and that is what I am.

What is below is from the Course... the ultimate truth is all about who I am. Higher than this I cannot go. To learn this, to see this may take life times. Many will not read the Course because they are afraid of being deceived. The irony of that is, humanity is already deceived and now in the process of waking up from the dream which the ego has created. Who knows how many life times and worlds it has taken for you and I to get this far? All this can seem negative' but it's all very wonderful.

We have chosen to enter this illusory world for the expansion and growth of all. God is a dreamer, and we are the dream. We are also the dreamer. When I first arrive here in this space-time reality as an infant, I'm clear. This is before I am fully entered into the dream. I am still very much connected to source. If I could talk at this time my! What things I could reveal. Before enlightenment I questioned re-incarnation. My thought was this... if I had lived before why would I not remember?

Stay with me for a minute. All of us dream as the body sleeps at night. There are an infinite number of frequencies or levels of consciousness. The dream world is one of them and within this frequency are many more. I am Consciousness. Consciousness is what I am. I am of course all things but for the moment let's just go with... Consciousness is what I am. I never lose consciousness. I cannot lose that which I am.

What we think of as sleep is when the body becomes unconscious because I the Consciousness leave it and travel inward into other planes or levels of Consciousness. If all goes well, I come back into my body and this results in my awakening in the morning. I am then refreshed having gone back into a higher dimension of consciousness where my spirit was recharged from the drain that the illusion caused while living on the physical plane. The dream world is as real as the one we experience upon awakening in the morning, and I believe it to be even more real.

Most see the dream or dream world as something that is not real. This is because they are accessing it from the consciousness that is functioning when they are "awake." When the body sleeps I enter the dream world. When I'm there, unless I become lucid in the dream which is rare, I do not have a clue that I am dreaming. That's how very real the dream I'm dreaming is. Question... how do I know that I'm not dreaming even now as I type this letter to you? There are two answers to this question. One would be... I don't! There's one other possible answer. If I have become lucid in this dream, { the one I'm having as I write this to you, } then I am aware that I am dreaming. When I, Consciousness leave my body tonight I will enter into the dream world. You could call this a dream within a dream.

All dimensions of reality are dreams that the source of creation is dreaming. I am the source as well as all the dreamers that dream. What is true of me is true of all. This can be seen only as I look out of the single eye which sees only one in existence. We are all that one. A song just came to mind which says,

Row, row, row your boat gently down the stream.

Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily, life is but a dream.

It's when I become lucid in the dream that I will row my boat merrily down the stream, because knowing that just on the other side of this dream is a far greater reality and a far greater me, results in me letting go of the oars and allowing the stream to take me where ever it is going.

The Course

“The Holy Spirit is your strength because HE knows nothing but the spirit as you. He is perfectly aware that you do not know yourself, and perfectly aware of how to teach you to remember what you are. Correction is for all who cannot see. To open the eyes of the blind is the Holy Spirits mission, for he knows that they have not lost their vision but merely sleep.”
