

NEITHER SHALL THEY LEARN MORE ANYMORE ...

I wanted to share some things concerning the 2012 scenario from my own personal perspective. If anything I share here resonates that's great. If it doesn't I would suggest either putting it on the shelf for perhaps a later date, or just drop it on altogether. What I'm doing here is simply sharing my point of view as it stands today, not to convince anyone of anything.

There are those who are very much interested in all the information coming out on this subject.

They strongly believe that tremendous changes are not only happening now that are linked to 2012, but that they will continue to escalate as time passes, the ultimate result being that the planet will move to a higher density consciousness sometime in or around that time. Some in this group are experiencing the sensation of time speeding up. Most are experiencing a swiftly changing mindset concerning spirituality etc. I would imagine that most who read this are also experiencing these things.

There is a tremendous amount of information being shared on the internet today, but I would caution all who click on to these different websites to remember that there is their truth and there is your truth. when I was initially introduced to the spiritual life, I like many jumped into the church with both feet because I was hungry to learn all I could which was a good thing, except in my zealous desire to learn, I unwittingly gave my power to others. Twenty years of grief later, I realized my mistake. There is a positive twist to that experience but that's another story.

My point here is that it's ok, and potentially profitable to listen to the teachers concerning what is coming, if I make it a point to touch base with my own inner life as well. My heart will be faithful to lead me in the pace that is right for me, and it will assuredly bring me to where I need to be at any given time. I would highly recommend communing with my own I am consciousness at least once every day. We do not have twenty years this time around to make the transition from where we are now, to where the planet is going and is even now on the move upwards to 5th density consciousness, but again I need to make it a practice of setting aside a little time to get quiet and commune with my inner man, and then, my own truth will surface and always keep me where I need to be.

There are those who for whatever reason refuse to be involved in this ascension process, they will not believe anything is happening. To go with the earth into fifth density is, and will continue to be a matter of choice. Since we each create our own personal reality this experience will vary for each of us. I don't believe that those who choose to remain on the old earth will know what happened to those who chose the ascension nor will those that chose the ascension know what happened to those who remain. I do not know how it will play out but I do feel this is basically how it will be.

I see these days as a time to get serious but only in terms of tapping into the truth that lies deep within us all. By no means is this a time to be fearful or anxious. Fear is a disempowering tool used by the black hats to suck the power from all who buy into their doom and gloom scenarios. They own the media, Hollywood, the banking system, and a very large part of the government just to mention a few. If I know this then I also know that I am not going to hear the truth via the television. We look for that to change in the not so distant future, but as for now it's the last place I'd go for the purpose of learning what is really going on.

There is absolutely no one out there anywhere that is suited to guide you and keep you on the perfect track for you, except your I am consciousness that is within your very own being. My mind goes to what John wrote in his letter to the church. He wrote... You have an anointing and you know all things, and you need no man to teach you... the anointing is the truth {he said} it's not a lie and as it teaches... you abide in that. Actually if you are one that goes within your self for guidance it's never up to you to decide whether or not to follow it. There will be no question in your mind as to which way to go at any given time... you will just know.

All those who stay in communication with their own heart will be infused with light, and incarnated within that light will be more love. It is these who gain love over ego that will continue to lift the planet into a consciousness where love without ego reigns supreme throughout the planet. Then shall that be fulfilled which says "Every man beneath his vine and fig tree shall live in peace and unafraid" "And the Lion shall lie down with the lamb" Neither shall they learn war anymore", ".
