

YOUR TICKET TO THE NEW EARTH

Today I watched a video of a small boy who sang a song entitled "Tell me why". In the video at one point, showed lots of children about his age was standing behind him in support as it were of his question. The question in the song had to do with... why do we war...? Why is there sickness...? Why is there poverty...? Why do we not lend a hand when we know that others are dying from starvation...? Someone please tell me why.

I watched this video with much emotion as I realized that the children coming on to the planet today are of a different breed then we have ever had before. I recall something I heard my brother say a long time ago... he said..."the day is coming when they are going to declare war and no one is going to show up". I sometimes ask myself these same questions I heard asked in the song. Take war... the fact that we still go to war against another country only reveals how retarded as a race we still are.

I trust I'm only observing here and not passing judgment for we are now in the age where the rate of vibration that passes judgment will not be tolerated. Not because any government will control us, but because the planet is moving into fifth density and a judging spirit can only exist in third density. In fifth density all who inhabit the planet will have moved into this range and will have lost the lower density vibrations that have created all the ills known to that level of consciousness.

All who have feelings/empathy for the less fortunate on the planet will remain on her as she transcends to fifth density. There are those who have already transcended to forth or fifth now. If in reading this you are asking the question where am I... please be assured that wherever you are you are exactly where you're supposed to be for the law of attraction is a perfect law and it always gets it right. That's just in repeating saying; you will always be where you are supposed to be according to your vibrational pattern.

To repeat something else... if your heart goes out to the suffering on the planet, if you have empathy for those less fortunate then you, you will remain on the planet as it transcends from third density through fourth to fifth where peace and good will to all men will reign supreme. We are often encouraged by the entities of higher dimensions to not allow fear to enter while we watch the chaos that is going on around us. I want to say here, that if and when you do find fear is influencing you here is all you need do.

Just know that nothing can keep you from your destination to the golden age not even fear itself with only one exception. If you believe it can you're right and if you believe it cannot you're right, again with one exception. That which created you can supersede... it can override... it can overturn... any hard fast false law that three dimensional/third density thinking can come up with. And any thought that says "I may not make it" is from that level... never fifth density. Whenever I have found myself in a state of vulnerability I automatically switch channels to the one called trust.

We all are constantly changing and we have moments of doubt. Do not resist these times. Just receive them as part of growing and turn your dial to trust knowing that as you do... that which you are, on a higher dimensional plane of consciousness, will take over. That's a given. Sometimes we just need to lay back and say... I'm not going to enter the arena of the spiritual sweat life. I'm just going to sit this one out and let the one who can see from a greater vantage point than I right now, stand in the gap for me.

Whatever you do that works to release you from the anxiety that fear would create that is what I'd do. You may defeat the fear by simply ignoring it... or by just knowing that nothing, not fear or anything else can prevent you from ascending with the mother planet as she moves into fifth density. The bottom line is if you care for others, if you sincerely desire the good of others that's your ticket. That's your guarantee that you have already transcended to a level that is conducive to the age before you.
