

Has the Word of God Been Genetically Modified?

My wife has a FaceBook Page where she posts things on health matters and allows others to post on it as well. The other day someone posted a picture of Jesus on the hillside feeding the thousands of people with bread and fish. The remarks from that picture were hilarious and yet struck me as interesting. One of the characters in the picture commented that they couldn't eat as they were vegan. Another asked if the fish had been given approval by the government and were mercury free. Still another asked If Jesus had a license to give the food away. One asked if the bread was gluten free. My favorite comment was when someone asked if the bread was genetically modified? This got me to thinking about the Word being genetically modified and this message.

Most people are aware of what GMO means. There is a ground swell across the nation to have GMO labeling on the food products we eat. The manufactures of what is passed upon us today, as food, do not want food labeling and are fighting to stop it from coming to pass.

You may ask what is GMO and what is the big deal over it? Wikipedia says "A genetically modified organism (GMO) is an organism whose genetic material has been altered using genetic engineering techniques. Organisms that have been genetically modified include micro-organisms such as bacteria and yeast, insects, plants, fish, and mammals."

The GMO foods are usually designed to allow for insecticides to be sprayed on them to kill bugs that cause harm to the plant. The chemicals used have been declared poisonous by many scientific researchers and many countries around the world have banned GMO foods from being grown or entering into their country. They see them as being dangerous to the public health of their nation. So GMO is an altered plant or product that changes the molecular structure of a product by inserting an agent or gene into it in order to change the structure of another organism. But it is dangerous to the one who eats the product.

GMO food looks like the real thing. It may even taste like the real organic thing, but it is not. It is poisonous to the human body according to research.

So how is this relative to the Word of God?

Today we look at what we are being fed in our local churches. Is it the Word or a simulation enhanced by GMO “flavouring”. Has the word been made of none effect? Is it feeding the believer with substance and if so why are they still hungry after coming out of a service?

The natural food we eat has been so modified we no longer know what organic food taste like. Remember in days past when you would come home from a hard days work and your mother would have a great homemade soup on the stove made from fresh home grown vegetables out of the garden? Today homemade means opening a can of your favorite flavor enhanced something or other that looks like your favorite soup of long ago and may even taste something like it but take away the MSG and other flavor enhancers and you have a flavourless bowl of nutritionless water that has no value to it. Might as well eat nothing for you will still be hungry 10 minutes after you eat it.

This also happens at your local church with the morsels that are fed to you every Sunday. Taste good when you eat it, but does not last long. It looks like food that we are suppose to be eating and receiving spiritual substance, but you can't survive on Chinese food every week. Ever read the Daily Bread that some churches give out. Morsels of food that is supposed to nourish you for the whole day. And that is about all many believers get in the run of the day to keep them in contact with the Lord.

Today's natural foods no longer sustains us like it used to. Today's food is processed with ingredients that were never in the food of twenty years ago and some of it should never be consumed by the population today. Ever wonder why diseases like diabetes is so rampant? Have you ever wondered what MSG does to you? MSG and other flavor enhancers are called excito-toxins. Why? Because they literally excite the brain cells so much that they actually explode and kill themselves

Today the spiritual food we are being fed is just as sickening, toxic and deadly. We are not being fed the ORGANIC WORD, which is Christ. We are being fed a resemblance, a modified version of the WORD more often called doctrines. They are jammed down our throats while the weightier matters are left behind. Matters like love, compassion, grace,, mercy, etc. We are not taught to eat of the spiritual food which is Christ Himself; how to touch Him in worship or prayer or how to fellowship with Him. So we leave service feeling empty and must wait for another week to receive a bit of something that is being passed off as food but is not. And just like GMO food can make you sick, so can the processed, flavor enhanced food we receive in the churches today, that is passed off as food for the believers that can make you sick for there is no nutrition in it. It has been genetically modified to pass off as something it is not. What is the flavor for today? Well it might be the doctrine of the rapture or the even more popular one called hell. A real killer that one. Makes no difference which one it is, your brain cells get excited and die over them. The MSG and the GMO's have done their job. The Scripture tells us that as new born babes we are to desire the sincere milk of the word. But if what is produced is coming from a diseased cow, what kind of milk are we drinking?

When you eat of the Bread of Life, the Lord Himself, you are never hungry. It sustains you until you come to Him again. Don't get me wrong, you are hungry but it is not because there is no nutrition. It is because you want more of Him. You desire the real organic food He gives.

Find a place that feeds you. Stop eating GMO food and for a certainty leave off any flavor enhancements that will kill your spiritual cells.

Namaste
